Joining or signing up:

Register at Dickinson Parks & Recreation, West River Community Center, 2004 Fairway Street or online at www.dickinsonparks.org.

Getting inside/moving around easily:

The West River Community Center is ADA accessible.

Keeping your child safe:

Students are required to wear goggles at all times. There will be an instructor in the room at all times.

Making it work for your child with special needs:

Students with difficulties with hand eye coordination are able to use a bigger ball and smaller racquets.

Making it work for the whole family:

Parents are welcome and encouraged to watch the lessons at all times.

Helping your child fit in and make friends:

We have three racquetball courts to fit any class size. Students may be rotated around in order to meet and interact with other students.
